TRYING TO SAVE TATE.
The public is fully acquainted with the killing of Allie Malone by Alex. Tate, and the trial, conviction and sentence of death pronounced upon the latter by Judge Portlock, of the county, and the attempts subsequently made by Mr. George Martin, Tate's counsel, to get a new trial for him without success.

New interest has been recently added to the case by Mr. Julian Carr, a former employer of Tate's, engaging counsel to save the life of the condemned man, which is rapidly forming a firm hold on the unfortunate subject of this article.

Mr. Hugh Miller was in Suffolk yesterday before Judge Prentiss, of the Circuit Court, asking for a writ of error in the case, stating his grounds to be that Tate is illegally under sentence of death, in that the records fail to show that Tate was in court when a motion for a new trial was made by Mr. George Martin, and which was continued by Judge Portlock.

Judge Prentiss took the matter under advisement, and the young gentleman who presented the case to the judge has hopes that his prayer will be granted. Failing here, other efforts will be made in behalf of the condemned man. In the meanwhile Tate is calmly spending his time in jail in Portsmouth.

AN APPROPRIATE PRESENT.
The "Ding Bats" Bring Smiles of Joy to the Face of Mr. Walter Webb.

Mr. Walter Webb, who unfortunately lost his leg several months ago on the Portsmouth and Norfolk Belt Line, has been presented with one of A. A. Marks' latest patent cork legs by his friends. The leg is of the finest make, costing $100, and no doubt, will be of great service to Mr. Webb. Mr. George Armstrong, captain of the Ding Bats, in a few well-chosen remarks, presented Mr. Webb with the artificial limb, and said, in part:

"We hope you will accept this as a token of esteem and respect, and that we hope it will do as much good to you as the recipient, as it has been a source of pleasure to the donors."

Mr. Webb, who is usually a modest way, and thanked the Ding Bats and their friends repeatedly. Mr. Webb left immediately for New York to have the leg fitted and in a letter to a friend said he expected to be able to wear the leg home in a few days.

FRATERNITY NOTES.
In the circular issued by Grand Chancellor Catlett, of the Knights of Pythias, bearing date August 21st, the three Portsmouth Lodges show a net gain of 48 this year. Of this number Seaside, No. 80, is credited with 44. He also says that the membership in this domain is larger than ever before, and with united and continued effort, you can, and I am assured will, make this a "red letter year" in Virginia Pythianism.

Odd Fellows of the city of Portsmouth will be highly entertained next Thursday night in the Rosenbaum building by the degree team of Grace Lodge, No. 83, which will confer the 18th degree on several candidates. This team is well advanced in the work and performs it well.

FOURTH STREET SUNBEAMS.

The address will be delivered by the Rev. Wm. R. Proctor, of Park View M. E. Church. The public is respectfully invited.

A CARD!
Portsmouth, Va., Sept. 2, 1899. I take this method of thanking the Ding Bat Association and my friends for the zeal they have displayed and the munificent manner in which they have contributed towards obtaining me an artificial limb. Very truly,
M. A. WEBB.
